

THE BIKER

Success Rate	17%
Attracts	road chicks, "bad boy" hunters
Requirements	leather jacket, helmet
Prep Time	none!
Bummers	talking shop with actual bikers

THE PLAY

1. Put on a leather jacket and carry a motorcycle helmet into a bar or party.

NOTE

You'll want a full-face racing-style helmet or a Harley type with maybe some skulls on it. Don't go with one of those Speed Racer helmets because chicks will think you're either a moped driver or, worse, French.

2. Choose a conspicuous area to display your helmet and wait for a woman to approach and inquire about your hog.
3. If you can't take it from there, then I can't help you.

CAUTION

Playing up the motorcycle gang aspect is a high-risk high-reward move that I cannot officially endorse. But if you must, you'll need a fake gang name unless you want a group of burly men rearranging your limbs into a suicide shifter, a sissy bar, or any other intimidating-sounding motorcycle part.
