Bummers	"A bro you can count on to screw up might screw up by not screwing up." Confucius

THE PLAY

1. Have a wingman choose a play from the book and run it poorly on your target.
2. After he swings and misses, approach the target and run the same play.
3. When she freaks out and says your wingman just tried to run that play, sell him out. Explain that he's trying to capitalize on your life: you're the real bassist for Cheap Trick or the real Jorge Posada or whatever.
4. After you bond over what a creep your wingman is, it's just a hop, skip, and a jump to Laidville.
